

Instructions to Authors

Aims and Scope: Military Psychology is the quarterly journal of Division 19 (Society for Military Psychology) of the American Psychological Association. The journal seeks to facilitate the scientific development of military psychology by encouraging communication between researchers and practitioners.

The domain for military psychology is the conduct of research or practice of psychological principles within a military environment. The journal publishes behavioral science research articles having military applications in the areas of clinical and health psychology, training and human factors, manpower and personnel, social and organizational systems, and testing measurements. Topic of major concern to military psychology will be covered in special journal issues.

Manuscripts should be submitted to the editor: Submit an electronic version (in Word) of the manuscripts to Janice H. Laurence, PhD, 9806 Chippendale Court, Annandale, VA 22003; e-mail: jhlaurence@cox.net

Each manuscript must be accompanied by a statement that it has not been published elsewhere and that it has not been submitted simultaneously for publication elsewhere. Authors are responsible for obtaining permission to reproduce copyrighted material from other sources and are required to sign an agreement for the transfer of copyright to the publisher. All accepted manuscripts, artwork, and photographs become property of the publisher.

Military Psychology is international in scope, and the editors encourage submission of articles that address research being carried out in a variety of national settings. Contributions will be considered for publication in the following categories: Research Articles: Reports of empirical research; Notes: Brief articles describing work that is largely confirmatory, advances in knowledge arising as by-products of broader studies, or new research techniques and methodologies; Reviews: Scholarly integrations of individual areas of empirical research; Communications: Information on policies and trends that affect the support and direction of research in military psychology; Clinical Practice: Case studies, theoretical articles, program development evaluations, and research articles of direct application for military psychologists in clinical settings.

Authors should supply a shortened version of the title suitable for the running head, not exceeding 50 character spaces. Each article should be summarized in an abstract of not more than 100 words. Avoid abbreviations, diagrams, and reference to the text in the abstract. Number manuscript pages consecutively throughout the paper. All parts of the manuscript should be typewritten, double-spaced, with margins of at least one inch on all sides, and should be prepared according to the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (5th ed.), which may be obtained from APA, 750 First Street, NE, Washington, DC 20002-4242. Manuscripts will be evaluated on the basis of style as well as content. Except for minor copyediting changes, authors will be responsible for clarity, conciseness, and felicity of expression.

Research manuscripts should be no more than 25 pages, including tables, figures, and references. The title page should include (a) the title of the manuscript; (b) names and institutional affiliations of all authors exactly as they are to be printed; and (c) name, mailing address, telephone and fax numbers, and email address of the corresponding author. Email address must be included on cover page. When blind review has been requested, all identifying information including acknowledgments should be confined to the title page.

References: Cite text by author and date (Smith, 1983). Prepare reference list in accordance with the APA Publication Manual, 5th Ed. Example:

Journal: Briery D. (2007). Emotional memory for words: Separating content and context. Cognition & Emotion, 21, 495-521.

Book: Smith, E., & Mackie, D. (2000). Social Psychology. Philadelphia: Psychology Press.

Contribution to a Book: Tanner, W.P. & Swets, J.A. (2001). A decision making-theory. In S. Yantis (Ed.), Visual Perception (pp. 48-55). Philadelphia: Psychology Press.

Illustrations: Illustrations submitted (line drawings, halftones, photos, photomicrographs, etc.) should be clean originals or digital files. Digital files are recommended for highest quality reproduction and should follow these guidelines.

- 300 dpi or higher
- Sized to fit on journal page
- EPS, TIFF, or PSD format only
- Submitted as separate files

Color illustrations will be considered for publication; however, the author will be required to bear the full cost involved in their printing and publication. The charge for the first page with the color is $900.00. The next three pages with color are $450.00 each. A custom quote will be provided for color art totaling more than 4 journal pages. Good-quality color prints should be provided in their in their final size. The publisher has the right to refuse publication of color prints deemed unacceptable.

Tables and Figures: Tables and figures (illustrations) should not be embedded in the text, but should be included as separate sheets or files. A short descriptive title should appear above each table with a clear legend and any footnotes suitably identified below. All units must be included. Figures should be completely labeled, taking into account necessary size reduction. Captions should be typed, double-spaced, on a separate sheet. All other figures should be clearly marked in pencil on the reverse side with the number, author's name, and top edge indicated.

Proofs and Reprints: Page proofs are sent to the designated author using Taylor & Francis' Central Article Tracking System (CATS). They must be carefully checked and returned within 48 hours of receipt. Reprints of individual articles are available for order at the time authors review page proofs. A discount on reprints is available to authors who order before print publication.