

The Psychoanalytic Quarterly

References. Authors should refer to reference lists in previously published Psychoanalytic Quarterly articles for reference style information if further information than that provided below is needed. Every citation in the text of the paper must be fully referenced in a Reference List at the end of the paper, including the following: complete title of the work, all its authors, editors' and translators' name(s) if applicable, volume numbers if applicable, page numbers, and places of publication and publishers of books. Make sure that page ranges include all page numbers cited in the text. Every listing in the reference list should have at least one citation in the text.

Please check that each author's name is spelled consistently throughout the paper, both in citations and in the Reference List. Also, be sure that dates of publication are consistent between the citations and Reference List.

When more than one reference by the same author and of the same year are included, these should be designated with the letters "a," "b," etc., after the year of publication, both in the text and in the Reference List.

In text, citations should appear as (Smith 2010), (Smith and Jones 2010), (Smith, Jones, and Smythe 2010), and (Smith et al. 2010) for more than three authors. In the reference list, all author names should be listed for all references, even if they are abbreviated with "et al." in the in-text citation.

Examples:

Journal Article: Werman, D. S. & Jacobs, T. J. (1983). Thomas Hardy's "The Well-Beloved" and the nature of infatuation. Int. Rev. Psychoanal., 10:447-457.

Book: Baker, H. (1962). William Hazlitt. Cambridge, MA: Harvard Univ. Press.

Edited Book Volume: Hazlitt, W. (1932). The Complete Works of William Hazlitt, Vol. 12, ed. P. P. Howe. London/Toronto, ON: J. M. Dent & Sons.

Edited Book Chapter: Wordsworth, W. (1807). Character of the happy warrior. In William Wordsworth—The Major Works, ed. S. Gill. New York: Oxford Univ. Press, 1984, pp. 86–97.

Newspaper or Online/Webpage: Wieseltier, L. (2013). Crimes against humanities: science goes where it doesn't belong. New Republic, September 16. <https://newrepublic.com/article/114548/leon-wieseltier-responds-steven-pinkers-scientism>.

Issued 2018

Warning - not controlled when printed. Maintained by Head Copyediting, Taylor & Francis Journals.