Announcing the new Editor-in-Chief of
Journal of Sustainable Finance and Investment

Taylor and Francis is pleased to announce the appointment of Journal of Sustainable Finance and Investment’s new Editor-in-Chief – Hisham Farag.

About the Editor

Hisham Farag is a Professor of Finance and Director of Research at the University of Birmingham Business School. He is also the Founding Director of the Sustainable Financial Innovation Research Centre (SFIC). His research focuses on topics related to corporate finance, sustainable finance, financial innovation and corporate governance. His research has been published in leading journals such as Journal of Financial and Quantitative Analysis, Journal of Corporate Finance, Journal of Business Ethics, Journal of Economic Behavior & Organization and British Journal of Management among others. He has a track record in attracting research funding from reputable institutions, for example the Bank of England. Hisham is also an Associate Editor of the European Journal of Finance, Review of Corporate Finance, International Review of Economics & Finance, International Journal of Finance & Economics and Research in International Business and Finance. He holds a PhD in Finance from the University of Birmingham, UK.

About the journal

Journal of Sustainable Finance and Investment (JSFI) is a quarterly journal publishing peer-reviewed articles on radical and reformist initiatives for social responsiveness in global financial markets. The Journal specifically focuses on environmental, developmental, social and governance principles as formulated in the financial markets, managed investment, banking, micro-finance, project finance and philanthropy.

The Journal develops the understanding of sustainable investment theory and practice by providing a venue for in-depth discussion and offering a range of accessible, impartial perspectives for researchers and professionals.

Visit Journal